Dr. David Hatfield is a Licensed Clinical Psychologist and Board Certified Behavior Analyst who specializes in child, adult, and family practice issues, including Autism Spectrum Disorders, intellectual disabilities, disruptive behavior disorders (e.g., ADHD, oppositional, and conduct issues), anxiety disorders (e.g., trauma, social anxiety, panic, and school refusal), mood disorders (e.g., depression and bipolar issues), and pediatric psychology (e.g., medical complications, adjustment to diagnosis, medical adherence and compliance, and traumatic brain injury).

Dr. Hatfield is one of very few practitioners in the state of Colorado to be a Licensed Psychologist and a Board Certified Behavior Analyst-D. He was appointed the only service provider on the Autism Commission for the State of Colorado in 2008, received the Autism Society of Colorado Outstanding Autism Service Provider Award in 2011, and was an invited content expert for the BACB in 2013-2014, 2019-current. He helped write both the HIMAT (Autism Mandate) Law and Medical Services in Schools Law. He obtained his master's degree in Applied Behavior Analysis from the Florida State University, and a doctorate in Clinical Psychology from the University of Colorado at Boulder.

In his own words: "I don't want to be doing anything else. I think the best way to change the world is to help people change the world. I love ABA because it's dedicated to folks that deserve love and support but don't always get it. When the kids get it and they do something for the first time, and they're so proud of themselves, that's when it hits you."
