

Ken is the President and founder of Advanced Behavioral Resources, specializing in working with persons with severe problem behaviors and complex behavioral issues. He has done research on behavioral procedures and training of behavior analysts as well as best practice.. He is also a professional guardian for a gentleman with a developmental disability.

Ken works as a consultant across the US, providing services in schools, clinics and in the community. He is dedicated to helping companies deliver ethical and effective, state-of-the-art behavioral services for individuals with autism and related disorders. He has a passion for behavior analysis and its value in the lives people with autism and developmental disabilities and individuals with mental illness.

Ken is a Board Certified Behavior Analyst and has been working in the field of developmental disabilities for over 40 years. Ken has worked in state government, including legislative efforts and public policy throughout the Unites Sates, specializing in the areas of social justice for individuals with disabilities. He has been part of efforts to get Medicaid funding for ABA, eliminating caps for HIMAT (Health Insurance Mandate for Autism Treatment) and expanding Medicaid Waiver services. As the past President of the Colorado Association for Behavior Analysis, he helped develop and HB22-1260, Access to Medically Necessary Servies for Students legislation.

ken.winn@advancedbehavior.org