Before becoming the State Director at Dungarvin Colorado, Dee Hiatt has worked in the public health and non-profit sectors. She worked for more than a decade as a behavior analyst, providing services to those with IDD and behavior health issues. Dee has received training in acceptance and commitment therapy and organizational behavior management. In addition to her board certification in behavior analysis, she has received master's degrees in business and counseling. Prior to joining Dungarvin in 2022, she led a multi-clinic aba agency in Colorado Springs.
