Microgreens Association, Vertical Harvest of Jackson Hole

Originally from the east coast, Ava earned degrees in Global Sustainability and Studio Art at the University of Virginia. After spending summers visiting family in Idaho and Wyoming, her love for the mountain west grew. Drawn to the social impact side of farming, Ava interned at Vertical Harvest (VH) in 2019, and immediately knew she wanted to return. She became a full-time employee of the greenhouse in June 2020. She manages the Racks department and is passionate about VH's Diversity, Equity, and Inclusion program. Ava loves working at the intersection of environmental sustainability and social justice. In her free time, she's involved in the climate action movement and enjoys trail running and painting.
