

Sara Sherman, Provider Power Moves Bio
sara@providerpowermoves.com

Sara Sherman is a nationally recognized speaker, consultant, and founder of Provider Power Moves. Drawing on 35 years of experience, she helps developmental disability providers solve the operational challenges that impact leadership, staff retention, compliance, meaningful services, and organizational culture.

Known for asking the questions others overlook, Sara helps organizations identify the real problem before investing time, money, and energy into the wrong solution. Her practical frameworks help leaders build systems that produce consistent, person-centered outcomes.

Her philosophy is simple: The focus changes. The process doesn't. Through engaging stories, real-world examples, and a refreshingly direct approach, Sara equips audiences with practical tools they can use immediately to strengthen leadership, improve service delivery, and achieve better outcomes.
